

3rd INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON POST-COMMUNIST URBAN GEOGRAPHIES „ACTORS SHAPING URBAN CHANGE“, 17-19 SEPTEMBER 2009, TARTU, ESTONIA

Sessions

SESSION	AUTHOR	TITLE
TRACK 1
A.1 Settlement system
Chairs: T.Tammaru, S.Kabisch	Albrecht Kauffmann	Migration movements within the Russian federation and changes in the distribution of its city population
	Martin Šimon, Martin Ouředníček	In search of counterurbanisation: some evidence from the Czech Republic
	Luděk Sýkora, Ondřej Muliček	Urbanization, suburbanization or/and desurbanization? Current trajectories in the Czech settlement system
	Gábor Hegedűs	The social geographical study of gated communities in some cities located outside the agglomeration of Budapest in Hungary
A.2 Residential differentiation
Chairs: M.Ouředníček, A.Kährik	Sampo Ruoppila	Towards a theory of residential differentiation in post-communist cities
	Michael Gentile	Method considerations when carrying out a survey in a small post-Soviet city: the Stakhanov Health Survey
	Marie Macešková, Martin Ouředníček	New spatial patterns of social differentiation in Prague: the case of socially weak population in the centre of Prague
	Katrin Großmann, Sigrun Kabisch	Actors shaping the future of post-socialist large housing estates in Central Europe
	Rein Ahas, Kerli Müürisepp	Ethnic segregation in everyday mobility patterns: Estonian and Russian communities in Tallinn
A.3 Suburbanisation 1
Chairs: S.Ruoppila, J.Temelova	Petra Puldová, Martin Ouředníček	Demographic change of Prague suburbs and its consequences
	Szymon Marcińczak	Inner-city shrinkage and suburban growth: population dynamics and residential segregation in Lodz metropolitan region under transition (1988-2002)

	Tiit Tammaru Anneli Kährik, Kadri Leetmaa	Suburbanisation of ethnic minorities in Estonia Residential preferences towards suburban living in post-socialist metropolies
A.4 Suburbanisation 2
Chairs: K.Leetmaa, G.Hegedűs	Kadri Leetmaa Gabriella Pócsi Oleg Golubchikov, Nicholas Phelps Isolde Brade	Soviet summer home settlements in residential suburbanisation Socialist past and diverse futures: differentiation of „small hobby gardens“ in Szeged, Hungary Post-socialist post-suburbia? Growth machine and the emergence of „edge-city“ in the metropolitan context of Moscow Where are suburban areas of Central and Eastern Europe heading to?
A.5 Everyday mobility
Chairs: R.Ahas, Z.Krisjane	Jakub Novák, Jana Temelová Richard Hubl, Václav Toušek Ondřej Mulíček, Robert Osman Zaiga Krisjane et al Olle Järv, E.Saluveer, Rein Ahas	Everyday life and mobility style of young urban professionals in Prague Changes of commuting and migration hinterland in the suburban area of the largest agglomerations of the Czech Republic after 1989 – the case of Brno Commuting flows in the post-socialist city region – actors and places Post-socialist urban population: commuting in Riga agglomeration Friday afternoon traffic congestion and commuters in Tallinn metropolitan area: study with mobile positioning data
A.6 Inner city 1
Chairs: R.van Kempen, A.Haase	Annegret Haase, Katrin Großmann, Annett Steinführer Carola S. Neugebauer Liviu Chelcea Anastasiya Ryabchuk	Transitory urbanites: new actors of residential change in Polish and Czech inner cities Social upgrading of inner-city neighbourhoods in Central and Eastern European metropolises. Changes of socio-spatial patterns in five urban regions Marginal groups in central places: gentrification, property rights and post-socialist primitive accumulation (Bucharest, Romania) Industrial sites and marginalization of the working class in Kyiv

TRACK 2

B.1 Urban transformations

Chairs: O. Mulíček, J.Salukvadze	Donatas Burneika	Peculiarities of urban transformation in Vilnius – tracing responsible actor networks
	Tauri Tuvikene	From socialist city to capitalist city? The persistence of socialist places: the case of garage areas
	Craig Young	‘Small’ cities under post-socialism: exploring the typical experience of post-socialist urbanisation?
	Dominik Weiß	Keep the bubble alive! A real option perception of urban renewal and demolition subsidies in the East German housing market

B.2 Heritage

Chairs: A.Printsmann, C.Young	Anu Printsmann	A town without heritage? The case of Kohtla-Järve, Estonia
	Ági Pap	Conflicts related to the World Heritage Sites in post-communist urban centres
	Laura Panait	Art and public space in Romania after 1989
	Mariusz Czepczyński, Helen Sooväli-Sepping	From sacrum to profanum: transformation of post-communist places of power on Southern Baltic

B.3 Socialist urban showpieces

Chairs: D.Light, E.Trubina	Duncan Light	Bucharest's centru civic: attempting to reconfigure a communist showpiece
	Mari-Liis Lamp	The impact of „Bronze Night“ on tourism in Estonia
	Anna-Liisa Unt	Design by use

B.4 Second transition

Chairs: T.Herrschel, L.Sýkora	Tassilo Herrschel	‘Cities in Transition’ after the Boom? The Need for New ‘Adjustment’ ?
	Nadir Kinossian	Local politics and development choices in the city of Kazan, Russia
	Elena Trubina	Hosting the international events in a time of the global crisis
	Claus Michelsen, Dominik Weiß	The evolution of problems in the East German housing sector
	Joseph Salukvadze, David	On the geography and typology of building construction in Tbilisi: before and after the crisis

	Gogishvili
B.5 Inner city 2
Chairs: N.Trumbull, O.Golubchikov	Nathaniel Trumbull Rein Ahas, Siiri Silm Anneli Uusküla et al Girts Burgmanis	Infill, its promoters, and its opponents in a post-communist city: St. Petersburg under siege Functional changes in the city centre of Tallinn during transition period Emergent properties of HIV risk among IDU-s in Tallinn: the synthesis of individual, network, and neighbourhood-level factors Juvenile delinquency in post-socialist city: The case of Riga, Latvia
B.6 (Sub)cultures and interest groups in post-socialist city
Chairs: R.Matoušek, H.Sooväli- Sepping	Lajos Boros Ionela Iacob Maria Prieto Roman Matoušek, Luděk Sýkora	Growth coalitions in post-socialist urban development – the case of Hungary Goth subculture in contemporary Romania Everyday Sarajevo: reassembling public housing and collective memory Environmental justice in postsocialist city: the case of Roma resettlement in town of Vsetřn, Czech Republic